

Long ago, in a far off land, there was a boy named Nicholas. Nicholas inherited a vast fortune, but he had no idea what to do with it. Wanting to help others, he set out to make the wishes of others come true. Knowing the townspeople needed his help, but also aware that they were very proud people, Nicholas decided to help his friends secretly.

Each night, Nicholas would disguise himself and deliver food, clothing and money to the people of his village, especially one very poor family with three daughters who were struggling to get married. Nicholas left a bag of gold on the father's doorstep as the wedding of the oldest daughter was near. Upon discovering the money the next morning, the family was very happy!

When it was time for the second daughter to get married, Nicholas again visited the family. He threw another bag of gold into the family's chimney. The family was so grateful, but had no idea as to who this person could be. As the third daughter's wedding neared, the father decided to stand guard so that he could try and identify the kind person, but on this visit, Nicholas tossed the bag of gold through an open window.

Every December, Nicholas took it upon himself to reward all the boys and girls by secretly delivering presents to them, and to this day 'Father Christmas' as he is usually known, continues this tradition by making a whirlwind journey on his sleigh on Christmas Eve, pulled by his team of 8 amazing reindeer, to deliver presents to all the girls and boys in the world.
